

This is the 51st edition of the Peace Diary, a non-profit-making service to movements around the world working for peace, social justice and the preservation of our ecosystem.

Our aim is to empower people – both in their communities and internationally – and to provide them with a useful tool for their work. We rely on your support so that we can continue to produce the Peace Diary each year. So, besides ordering a copy for your own use, please make it available through your own networks – there are discounts for bulk orders (see overleaf). And we can supply further of these order forms for you to distribute.

- The Directory – fully revised – lists almost 2000 national and international peace, environment & human rights organisations in 150 countries.
- Pocket format, with a week to a view, notable dates and anniversaries, and a quotation each week.
- Calendars, Forward Planner, and Notes.

“An important tool in our struggle against militarism; a key resource in our work.”
— Roberta Bacic, War Resisters’ International

“The one aid the busy activist should not be without.”
— Rob Fairmichael, Nonviolent News, Northern Ireland

“...truly a must for every activist”
— Anatoly Ionesov, director, International Museum of Peace and Solidarity, Samarkand, Uzbekistan
